This's normal hun
Don't react even if you really want to!

If you ignore him and make sure he knows he will absolutely not get anything out of this, he'll stop.

It will become boring for him and he'll see, that his reaction isn't working anymore!

yes i agree with diana.. dont encourage this behavior so he wdnt grow with it! show him that only good behavior will get ur attention and i know he wd cry himself out and hit himself so hard in a way wd totally ur heart but try as much as u can and know its for the best in the future:cheer:
